

ARISTOTLE FORRESTER

ARIST BIOGRAPHY

Aristotle Forrester is an abstract expressionist from the South Side of Chicago, born and raised in Hyde Park. He is currently based between Boston and Chicago. He creates large-scale landscape and figure-based oil paintings. He began making art when he was six years old, and started exhibiting his work at age 16. He received his Bachelor of Fine Art degree from the Massachusetts College of Art and Design in 2016. Alongside his tenure as a fine artist, Forrester has furthered fine art education and access through teaching color theory and studio practice to inner city students as well as private clients for seven years. He is now represented by galleries both in the US and internationally and has been building his list of collectors with a full time studio practice. He has most recently exhibited his work at venues such as M Fine Arts Galerie (Boston and Palm Beach), the Inside Out Museum (Beijing) and online via Singularart (Paris).
